

What is GAND?

GATAD2B-associated neurodevelopmental disorder

GAND is a rare genetic disorder affecting fewer than 200 people worldwide. Individuals with GAND face difficulties in learning, motor development, and speech, among other challenges. Over 90% of known cases are children. There is no cure...yet.

Help us work to change that! Learn more at:

GATAD2B.org